GCFA's Denominational Roles and Responsibilities

Your Apportionment Dollars at Work for Central Conferences

According to The Book of Discipline, "General agencies are important to our common vision, mission, and ministry" (§ 701.2). The General Council on Finance and Administration (GCFA) was created by General Conference to fulfill many duties including:

Coordinating and administering financial resources and policies to protect the financial health of ministries

Reviewing General Agency annual budgets and performing audits to provide fiscal responsibility per The Book of Discipline

Submitting a quadrennial budget to General Conference to be good stewards of the resources entrusted to all of us

Safeguarding the legal interests and rights of The United Methodist Church

Providing administrative resources to enable the fulfillment of the Church's mission

Gathering and maintaining data and statistics relevant to the denomination to provide accurate historical records and understand vital worship trends

Supporting the Episcopacy through administrative support to equip our Bishops in their ministry
